their power to establish these principles in our public laws:

**Resolved**, That the National Greenback party is eminently national in its objects and principles; that its mission is to bury the past with its prejudices and emittles, preserving only its lessons, and applying them wisely and patriotically to the great end of the premotion of republican government; free, beficent, and ever administered in the interest of the great body of the teople, without regard to questions of race or color, or north, south, east or west; and to rescue the people from the controlling influence of sectional issues in the organization of political parties, to the end that vital questions, which concern the material prosperity and the restoration of a general sentiment of fraternity and good will, and a fair and equitable distribution of the blessings of government a preceive that consideration which their importance demands.

2. That as it is the exclusive function of the Fed-2. That as it is the exc'usive function of the Fed

2. That as it is the exc usive function of the Federal government to coin and create money and regulate its value, all bank issues designed to circulating medium, whether of metal or paper, should be lessued by the government and made a full legal-tender for all debts, duties and taxes in the United States at its stamped value.

3. That the government of the United States shall never again issue interest bearing bonds of any kind or class, whereby the money of the country may be absorbed and draw interest in Idleness.

4. That the debt of the United States be discharged as fast as it shall become due with the coin now in the treasury and that which may come into it, and with such legal-tender currency as may be provided, the laws under which the debt was originally incurred being strictly athered to.

5. That as labor creates all wealth, and as there can be no prosperity without employment for every one willing to work, it is the duty of congress to provide a circulating medium adequate to the full employment of labor, the equitable distribution of its products and the necds of business, and to regulate its quantity by law, so that finable illuctuations, so destructive to all except the money oligarchy, may be rendered impossible.

clai, commercial, mechanical and agricultural prosperity.

11. That we demand a reduction of officers, of official salaries and fees, of taxation, and rigid economy in all governmental expenses, whether municipal, county, State or national.

12. That we demand honesty and economy in the administration of public affairs, and prompt and severe punishment for malfeasance in office.

13. That we demand honesty and economy in the administration of public affairs, and prompt and severe punishment for malfeasance in office.

13. That are equitable and efficient lien law, which will secure the wages of the laborer and mechanic without delay or excessive cost should be enacted by the general assembly and rigidly enforced.

14. That all property, owned by individuals or corporations, should be equally taxed.

15. That the system of letting by contract the convicts in our prisons, and the bringing them in competition with honest and skilled labor, is wrong in principle and corrupt in practice, and should be forever sholished.

16. That a low rate of taxation as a specific price of the principle and corrupt in practice, and should be forever sholished.

18. That a low rate of taxation as a specific price of the price of only means whereby revenue can be collected from the people; that a rate of taxation beyond the ability of tals people to pay has resulted in practical confiscation, the back-tax collector receiving in fee for the state the lands belonging of right to the citizen, who is unuble to pay his tax or redeem his home.

17. That we denounce all violence and violent means, from whatever source emunating, and make our appeal to the good sense, love of justice and patriotism of the great mass of the people, invoking them to seek redress for their grievances, and emancipation from existing wrongs, by and through the ballot-box only.

18. That the purity of the ballot box, and the free and untrammeled exercise of the right to the elective franchise, are two of the most sacred rights of American citizens, and we denounce as unworthy of confidence any party that will prostitute the one or restrict the other.

19. That the safety of a Republican government has its foundation and finds its preservation in the education and intelligence of its citizens, and hence a liberal support of public education is one of the highest duties devolved upon the national, State and municipal governments, and no citizen should be elected to office who is not the avowed friend of public education.

from each district of the country, that is, forty you
from the city and thirty-six from the country.

No proxies shall be allowed unless by consent of the Central club.

The Central club shall have full power to nominate candidates for office in the August and November election, and to conduct the canvass.

The Ward clubs shall have power to withdraw or recall delegates from the Central club, except within four weeks of the campaign.

The Central club shall adopt its own by-laws and regulations for its own government, pass upon all credentials of members, etc., and shall have power to unseat a member at any time if they find him unworthy of membership, and report the vacancy to the club her presented.

James E Fox, chairman of the old Central club,
shall call the new Central club together on Thursday,

M. Kinsella offered a motion that the delegates present sign the platform. Adopted.

The resolution was carried. ADJOURNMENT. On motion, the convention adjourned sin

Convention Notes The general feeling among the colored mer who were delegates was one of hostility to the Republican party, while the white delegates were more discreet and reticent on the figured in the convention also figured in the Republican convention held not long since at the Exposition building, and would be willing to figure at a Democratic convention likewise. The white leaders manipulated the convention successfully, and the colored delegates failed to see it. The whites did the thinking and the work, while the colored did the leud talking. The nominations for offices in the August election will be made by the centra dub, behind closed doors. The draft of the platform of principles was the work of Mr. J. B. Bingham, who performed the ponderous ask in a lengthy manner. Among the candidates of the party for offices the following For County Trustee .- J. B. Blackwell, o

For Sheriff .- John Powel, Sam H. Taylor, Dick Mason.
For Congress.-J. L. Harris, G. P. M. For Judge of the Criminal Court.—Colonel
A. H. Donglass, T. H. Logwood.
For Chancellor.—Hon. John Losgue.
The colored delegates did not seem to harmonise with Ed Shaw and other colored leaders who cast their fortunes with the Repubican party, but several of these colored Republicans informed the Greenbackers that hey would regret this action when election day came around. The colored Republicans seemed to regard the National party movement as a small side-show to their big circus tent, while the colored Nationalists believed that the colored Republicans were in a protesting against the same, was received menagerie, and they (the Nationalists) owned and filed. To the Honorable Legislative Council: To the Honorable Legislative Council:

GENTLEMEN—Upon the communication of the backmen requesting your honorable body to pass an ordinance for the arrest of all persons who refuse to pay their hack hire, I have the honor to report that in my opinion the civil courts afford ample protection in this respect. If the hack hire is not paid they have the same remety open to them as the merchant, the physician, the community, in this respect. Certainly they are entitled to the same profection under the law ms others; this I understand they have, and this would seem ample in the premises. I should not think it advisable to pass the ordinance petitioned for. Respectfully, C. W. HEISKELL.
